DO YOU NEED IT?

5 signs you need life insurance

Term life insurance (Risikolebensversicherung) pays a fixed amount (sum assured) to your family if you die during the term. Tick how many apply to you:

- [ ] 🏠 You have a home loan – your family would inherit it
- [ ] 👩‍👧 Your partner earns less or isn't working (yet)
- [ ] 👶 Your kids are growing up here – school, rent, daily life
- [ ] 🇮🇳 Your parents in India rely on the money you send
- [ ] 💼 Your salary pays most of the bills

> 💡 Two or more ticks? Then your family depends on your income – and as an expat you often have no family safety net in Germany.

How much cover? Rule of thumb: 3–5× gross yearly salary + open loans

Gross salary / year	Cover (3×)	Cover (5×)
€50,000	€150,000	€250,000
€70,000	€210,000	€350,000
€100,000	€300,000	€500,000

Rule of thumb from Finanztest 12/2026 – plus your open loan amount. Your real need depends on savings, kids and your partner's income.

WHAT IT COSTS

Cheaper than most expats think

Finanztest (issue 12/2026) compared term life insurance in Germany. For the same payout, expensive tariffs cost more than 3× as much as cheap ones.

Age 35, non-smoker

€456

per year (≈ €38/month) for €500,000 until 67 – cheapest tariff

Same tariff at 45

€628

per year – about 38% more. Age and health when you sign decide the price.

Finanztest 12/2026: model customer non-smoker, BMI 22, €500,000 sum assured until 67. Your price depends on age, health and job.

⚠️ Home loan offer with life insurance attached? You don't have to take the bank's policy. You can bring your own – often cheaper for the same cover.

⚠️ Health questions: answer them completely and honestly. Wrong answers can mean no payout when your family needs it.

⚠️ "The loan dies with me": it doesn't. A home loan is part of the estate – your family inherits it with the home.

COUPLES

The inheritance tax trap

Who owns the policy matters. If you insure your own life and the payout goes to your partner, it can count as an inheritance.

💍 Married

Spouses have a high tax-free allowance (€500,000). Usually no problem.

❤️ Not married

Unmarried partners only have €20,000 tax-free. A €300,000 payout can trigger a big tax bill.

> 💡 The fix: "cross-over" policies (über Kreuz). Each partner takes out the policy on the other partner's life and pays for it. Then the payout is your own money, not an inheritance.

Your life insurance checklist

- [ ] How many of the 5 signs apply to you?
- [ ] Cover: 3–5× gross salary + open loans
- [ ] Term: until your youngest child is independent / the loan is paid
- [ ] Married or not? → who owns the policy
- [ ] Existing policy from your bank? → compare
- [ ] Also think about income protection: what if you can't work (BU)?
